MINISTER

DR. JOWANDA ROLLINS-FELLS

Dear Reader,

It is Harvest Time and nature is reflecting God's ability to pay attention to details. Be encouraged by the articles this month to live your faith out loud. God sees you, knows you, and loves you. All of us are Ambassadors that can take the message of salvation beyond the four walls of the church. Go into the marketplace and sing the praises of how good God is.

Encourage us now, Lord.

In Jesus' Name,
Amen!

MINISTRY IN THE HERE AND NOW

Ministry (sharing the good news) has not changed in location and focus since the time of Jesus. The capacity to share has exponentially increased. Paul preached in the synagogue, the brick-and-mortar location. He had good news for those who were religious and needed salvation. He had to reach beyond those who were coming inside the synagogue to expand their knowledge. Paul went into the streets to speak with anyone that would listen. He sent letters to be shared. He shared in prison and on the side of the road. With the state of the world, our spirit should be as Paul's was, stirred up to reach the lost, initiate a relationship, change venues, and accept whomever the Lord brings into our path for ministry.

What areas are open for ministry that are different from your grandparent's experiences as believers?

We are familiar with the annual summer revivals, including tents, which were portable to travel during the summer. There were also street ministers on rare occasions. The focused ministry occurred in a designated building, the traditional in-person Sunday morning service, evening worship, church school, and evening training programs.

When posing the question, "Where is the most common place to hear God's word", among today's individuals, the answers varied. Because of the advancement in technology, many ministries are taking advantage of the opportunity to share their messages over platforms that allow them to reach audiences on a global spectrum. Rather than seeking God at an actual church location, participants reported that they now look to social media and other platforms for spiritual encouragement and fulfillment. For example, on-demand streaming TV network platforms and social media, accessed from their phones and other smart devices, YouTube, Blogs, Podcasts, and Web TV were some of their responses.

Reaching the masses with the word of God seems to require going outside of the walls of the building.

The place of ministry in the here and now is not where it used to be. This reality forces us to reevaluate our ministry efforts. I say meet them where they are. They may not come to 14 Sunday Street, but they will come for a concert with family and friends at a downtown community hall. Be there with an invitation to accept Jesus. Take every location, situation, and communication opportunity to glorify God. It is His will and responsibility to give the increase. "But you are a chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's special possession, that you may declare the praises of him who called you out of darkness into his wonderful light. Once you were not a people, but now you are the people of God; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy." 1 Peter 2:9-10. God expects that we will be willing to be used by him to accomplish his will. He has promised to supply all our needs, go with us, and empower us. He has given us His Spirit, who lives in us, empowers us, teaches us, shows us things that are to come, and keeps us aligned with the will of God.

LET ME ENCOURAGE YOU!

There is a man at the end of Acts Chapter 4 whose name was Joses = Exalted, whom the Apostles named Barnabas, meaning The Son of Consolation. Consolation speaks of comfort, encouragement, exhortation, lifting up, or cheering.

One of the greatest needs in the body of Christ is the ministry of encouragement.

Often the struggles of life have a way of draining you and draining you of happiness and joy. Sooner or later, everyone needs encouragement. Kings and queens, presidents, pastors, Sunday school teachers, police officers, artists, and even comedians need encouragement from time to time. If we are not careful in the church, we might count people out when they're just down and need encouragement. We may consider them useless when they may just have been used.

2 Corinthians 4:8-9 We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair; Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

Brothers and sisters, the ministry of encouragement is an uplifting one!

1 Samuel 30:6 And David was greatly distressed; for the people spake of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was grieved, every man for his sons and for his daughters: but David encouraged himself in the LORD his God.

Everyone indeed needs to know how to encourage themselves, but it is also true that we need to know how to encourage each other! The ministry of encouragement is a ministry we are all called to and is something that will always be needed until Jesus comes back!

In the words of Frankie Beverly...

*I've got myself to remind me of love
My mind and my heart, I believe in above
These happy feelin's, I'll spread them all over the world*

*From deep in my soul I wish you

THRIVING WITH PURPOSE, POSITIVITY, AND POSSIBILITIES

1,050 days!!! 25,200 hours! 1,512,000
seconds! I have 1,050 days until I retire with 40 years as an educator.

Thank You, Lord, for Jeremiah 29:11!!!!

As I mentally and emotionally contemplate the monumental task of being an educator for 40 years, it blows my mind! I could have never imagined the places where God would take me as an educator. I never dreamed how my staff and I would impact the lives of thousands of children. To God be the Glory! If you would have told me as a young girl growing up in South Philadelphia, on welfare, poor, and Black that I would be in this position at this time, or that I would be living in this place and with the bountiful blessings that God has graciously bestowed upon me and my family, I would have not believed it!!

As I begin to plan for my retirement, just saying that blows my mind, I have adopted a theme for the next 1,050 days. It is, “Thriving For Purpose, Positivity, and Possibility!” I know my God-given purpose. I will walk through the rest of my life with a positive attitude regardless of the circumstances or situation. I am confident that the possibilities before me are far beyond what I could ever ask, think, or even imagine.

I have not accomplished this of my abilities, it is the grace and mercy of God. The good news is also available to you. God has given us the perfect recipe for success in His Word:

1. Purpose- Know your purpose. What has God created you to do? “And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed and progressively changed [as you mature spiritually] by the renewing of your mind [focusing on godly values and ethical attitudes], so that you may prove [for yourselves] what the will of God is, that which is good and acceptable and perfect [in His plan and purpose for you].”Romans 12:2 AMP

2. Positivity-Always keep an optimistic attitude. Your attitude determines your altitude. “I can do all things [which He has called me to do] through Him who strengthens and empowers me [to fulfill His purpose—I am self-sufficient in Christ’s sufficiency; I am ready for anything and equal to anything through Him who infuses me with inner strength and confident peace.]”Philippians 4:13 AMP

3. Possibility-Trust God! It will lead to unlimited possibilities. Don’t you ever let anyone tell you that dreams don’t come true. My dreams did! Don’t ever let anyone tell you that you can’t make it because of where you came from or because of the color of your skin. I didn’t! “What do you mean, ‘If I can?’” Jesus asked. “Anything is possible if a person believes.”. Mark 9:23 NLT

Success begins with you believing in yourself and in God. In 1,050 days, I will retire! I will stand at center court at my school, drop the mic, and say DIVA OUT!!

IT IS HARVEST TIME

Ripe For Picking

Jesus said, "...You know the saying, four months between planting and harvest,' But I say, wake up and look around. The fields are ripe for harvest" (John 4:35)

AUTHOR:

Prophetess Joanne Walker

God Got It Ministries

<https://www.facebook.com/GodGotItMinistry/>

I think the greatest expectation of sowing seeds is the Sower's expectation of Harvest Time and the hope of gathering a bountiful crop.

When I was a little girl, I can remember my father plowing the fields in which his garden would grow. I watched as he walked behind his plow tilling the soil from one end of the field to the other, row after row. I was amazed that he not only knew what to plant but understood the timing to plant, as well. He would sow rows of corn, cabbages, and tomato, sweet potatoes, white potato, turnips greens, butter beans, lima beans, green beans, watermelons, etc. He'd wait with patience for them to burst forth from the hard outer core and begin the germination process of budding tender leaves until they reached maturity. And when the crops were ripe for the picking, there was the harvest.

As I reflected on the memory of my father during this season of gathering crops, I was reminded of a passage of scripture about Jesus speaking to his Disciples concerning the harvest. In John 4:35 Jesus said these words, "don't you have a saying, It's still four months until harvest? But I say, wake up and look around. The fields are ripe for harvest."

In other words, we must open our eyes to a spiritual truth: The Church does not need to wait for the harvest. From Jesus' perspective, the harvest is waiting for the Church, and the time is ripe for picking. There are fields of spiritually unsaved individuals that need to hear the gospel of Jesus Christ and His salvation plan and purpose for them here and now!

Therefore, let us spread the seeds of God's Word and His love for humanity to the world: Seeds of love instead of hatred, the seed of joy instead of despair, the seed of peace instead of conflict, the seed of patience instead of impatience, the seed of kindness instead of meanness, the seed of goodness instead of wickedness, the seed of faithfulness instead of disloyalty, the seed of gentleness instead of harshness, the seed of self-control instead of self-indulgence. The fruit of the Holy Spirit will produce an innumerable harvest. It is the love that we give to others saved and unsaved, that produces the harvest Jesus desires. For He wants an abundant crop of souls. For it took Jesus yielding His life to accomplish this task for the whole world. The true seed we must plant is the "good news" of Jesus Christ's suffering, death, burial, and resurrection that can change the entire world into God's Kingdom. So, Come on kingdom builders. IT'S HARVEST TIME...and the fields are ripe for picking!

GOD'S ANOINTED AND APPOINTED

This month (October) is the month many churches/ministries typically set aside for recognition of the Oracles of God. If you have a Pastor, as we do, who is worthy of the title, then count yourself blessed beyond measure. I'm not talking about that person that says what you want to hear, but the one who always declares the truth, even when it isn't convenient. It's that person who is truly concerned about where you will spend eternity, not your tithes and offerings. Under this leadership, it is not unusual that toes might get stepped on and feelings sometimes get hurt, but likewise, souls don't go hungry, and continual growth is experienced, not stagnation.

As I look at what Christianity has evolved into, I shake my head in amazement. So far is the line of demarcation drawn between current practices and how the early Church was framed.

We hire, we fire, we set up, we take down. And We choose the shepherd.....not God. The board of trustees has taken God's place. Gone are the days when prayer was sent up for direction from the Lord to Appoint leadership of the church.

And as for criteria, I can't even begin to ascertain the level of carnality we've sunk to. See, now we go for a certain "look" not the humbleness of heart. It seems that we are increasingly more concerned with the answers to questions like: What do they drive? How do they dress? How does the "First Lady" dress? After all, they need to reflect our progressive mindset. The Bible says we are to live in the world but not be of the world. We have spiritually crossed the line and I dare say that for some the line is so blurred that it is not recognizable. I believe this is how we have managed to take our eyes off of the importance of the answers to questions like:

AUTHOR: Lady Marcia Dudley
Rightway Church

Do they possess the Spirit of God? (needed for the direction and guidance of His members, not ours)

How is their Prayer life?

How is their Vertical relationship with God?

Are they selfless and self-sacrificing?

Are they daily in the Word?

All these guidelines seem to have become a moot point. Arguably irrelevant and immaterial.

Oh, that we would return to the Godly model outlined in the book of Timothy: that person who champions everyone else and no one uplifts them in return, the one who knows they're not in it for the glory or income but rather, the outcome, God's anointed and appointed. Take good care of them and in turn, God will take good care of you.

Be Blessed

SEED TIME & HARVEST TIME

What is Seedtime and harvest and who came up with this principle? That's a great question.

The answer to that question is found in Genesis 8:22. God said, after He had flooded the earth and the water had subsided, "While the earth remains, Seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter and day and night shall not cease." In other words, this principle will be in effect while the earth remains. This principle affects everything we think, do, or say.

For the farmer, seedtime is the time you plant seeds, and the harvest is when you gather what was planted from the seed that was sown. Once planted, the seed begins to sprout in the ground, develop roots and grow so that in the final stage the seed produces a crop that the farmer can now harvest or gather.

Well, how does this principle affect you and me? The things we do, our actions; the things we think, our thoughts; or the things we say, our words; are like a seed ready to be planted. These can produce detrimental, harmful, or beneficial results. Our thoughts can either tear us down or lift us up. Proverbs 23:7 states, "For as he thinks in his heart, so is he." We are told in Philippians 4:8 to think about things which are true, noble, just, pure, lovely, and of good report, so that the Peace of God will be with you.

The Israelites were not able to enter the land of Canaan under the leadership of Moses because of the things that they said. Their words were like seeds planted, words of doom, doubt, and destruction. Therefore, they experienced wandering in the wilderness until every one of those who murmured died and the harvest they reaped was not being able to see the fulfillment of God's promise. Joshua and Caleb were able to see and entered the promised land because they spoke words of faith. Proverbs 18:21 states that "Death and life are in the power of the tongue and they that love it will eat its fruit."

AUTHOR: Minister Saundra Werts
Werts Ministries
wertsministries@verizon.net

The principle of seedtime and harvest is also manifested in our behavior, and how we treat others. Jesus said in Matthew 7:12, "do unto others that you would want them to do unto you." Remember that God is not mocked whatever a man sows, he will also reap.

The principle of seed time and harvest also applies to our finances. 2 Corinthians 9:6.7 says, "a stingy sower will reap a meager harvest, but a generous spirit will reap an abundant harvest." Let giving flow from your heart, not from a sense of religious duty. Give with joy because God loves a cheerful giver. Jesus said in Luke 6:38, "give and it will be given to you: good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over will be given back to you."

The harvest that we reap is determined by the seed that we sow.

Joanne Walker

THE BLESSING OF

harvest.

TIME

No matter what is going on, the Bible states that there will always be a seedtime and a harvest (Gen. 8:22). If there is a time of sowing, then there must be a time of reaping or harvest. Harvest time represents a time of gathering something that you have been hoping or planning for. Whatever it is that you are desiring, usually there is a plan put in place to begin the process of receiving it. Once the plan is developed, then comes the time to plant the idea (or the aspects of the dream you had earlier envisioned) and from there, a moment of expectation.

Expectation of a Harvest: something you have been hoping for that brings new excitement. That new excitement is connected to the understanding that what was in a seed or developmental stage, now has the capability of producing something that, when the process is completed, will bring forth a never-before-experienced satisfaction and appreciation.

Whenever you see the phrase “seedtime and harvest” we need to break it down into three separate meanings to receive the gist of its true understanding. Seed, Time, and Harvest when separated allow us to get a clearer picture of its total components. The word “Seed” is associated with expectation as we mentioned before.

Time, when separated denotes that once the seed has been sown, then we enter a season of rest. During this season of rest, the seed is growing and developing into the culmination of what we were hoping for in the beginning. It is important to note that in this phase of “Time”, what the seed becomes when it leaves us is now in God’s control. Will it produce more or less than our expectation? The answer to that assumption, for those of us who are believers in God, lies in the strength of our faith.

Faith is the substance behind what we are hoping for or are expecting when there is no evidence. If our faith is strong, then we understand that no matter what transpires during the process, everything will work together for our good! You see, the blessing in the Harvest guarantees the revelation that no matter what was sown, it will always produce more than we had in the beginning. Here’s how it works. The “harvest” if there is one, will produce more than we had in the beginning. If there is no harvest, then the least we end up with is what we had in the beginning, the dream or idea. But along with that comes the understanding of why it didn’t produce as we desired and what is needed for the increase to come at another time! It is truly a blessing when you know that you can’t lose with the stuff we use. Go for it!
