MINISTER

DR. JOWANDA ROLLINS-FELLS

Welcome to our November issue, "I Have A Story To Tell".

What a wonderful time of year. Landscapes of red, yellow, and orange falling leaves, cool temperatures, and daylight savings are all markers to let us know that we are entering a new season. With each season, we seem to naturally embrace a certain attitude, partially dictated by how we emotionally respond to the weather and social activities surrounding that time of year.

In contrast to spring with the budding flowers, warming of the sun, and the promise of summer and all the excitement it brings, fall is a time of year when many are challenged with having that same excitement. Although the leaves are beautiful, the fresh flowers and lush tree lines disappear, the air becomes crisp, and daylight is shortened. We visually witness the ushering in of the Thanksgiving season, a time of reflection, family gatherings, and celebrations centered around a mindfulness of gratitude.

This can be a difficult time for many because thoughts of loved ones who are no longer here and feelings of loneliness and sadness tend to become more heightened. But I say to you, do not dismay. In all things acknowledge Him and give thanks because God always has a plan. And all that you experience is a part of your story, a testimony that will grow you and bless others. God is preparing you.

Use this season to look back over your summer, spring, and winter to recognize your blessings. A grateful heart will activate your faith and give you the clarity in knowing that with each passing season God has and is preparing you for the blessings of your next. In this month's issue, you'll read about gratefulness being a choice and that no matter what you may be going through, there is always a reason to be thankful. Oh, give thanks unto the Lord for he is good, and his mercy endures forever. In this season, take time to reflect and honor God with your testimony of thanksgiving. What is the story that you have to tell?

Happy Thanksgiving!

DR. JOWANDA ROLLINS-FELLS

This month's edition of Power of One Magazine is super special because the theme of giving thanks.

This month I get to celebrate my birthday and my son's birthday... on the same day! That's right, he was born on my birthday. While I know several people who would have passed out at the thought of having to share their birthday, I for one am thankful. Not only does a joint birthday give me a reason to be a kid again, but it also allows me to give double praise to God for His goodness and His mercy.

Let me explain.

I remember hearing my doctor walk through each step of the C-Section for the student interns in the room (and for my own curiosity). I remember the pressure and then a release as our son entered the world and the pride I could see in my husband's face and the awe of life in his eyes. I remember our doctor saying that he was a beautiful baby boy. Next, I heard the nurse count fingers and toes and as she suctioned his nose, I heard a slight cry ... and then silence.

Silence that was exaggerated by the fact that I could not sit up and I could not see beyond the curtain at my waist. My ears sharpened and I focused on discerning the room. Silence was all I felt or heard. I waited listening specifically for his cry. Babies cry when they are born. Where is his cry? Why the silence.

Then, there was a peace that hit my spirit and it was that peace that scared me. As I asked if everything was ok, the side door flew open. The side door that they had previously informed me led to the NICU. The nurse moved with a calm but deliberate pace towards the door holding my son like a football. As she walked swiftly towards the door, I called after her to ask if he was ok and if I could please at least see his face so that I would at know which baby was mine. She froze in her tracks, and I could see the moment she was processing my request, should she turn or keep walking?

I silently plead with God for his life and for a moment. A moment to see his face so I would know which baby was mine. Even as I write that statement alone still brings me to tears.

When the nurse turned, I could see that my son's little perfect face was a hue of blue. I told her thank you, bless you, now go!

Peace immediately rested on me as I helplessly lay on the table being stitched back together.

My husband's presence and his countenance gave me reassurance. He smoothed my hair and rested his lips on my forehead. It was a silent moment of reckoning as we prepared for the spiritual fight for our son's life. I knew that there was no room for doubt, worry or fear. The faith fight that brought us to this point of labor and delivery was not over. We now had a fight to survive and a fight to thrive.

I knew the promise God made me. So, I thanked God for preserving my life through the birthing process. I thanked God for my oldest daughter, my husband, and my son. We were all allowed to go into the NICU to see him and we entered with peace, not fear. This was a miracle baby with the DNA of FAITH running through his veins. We recognized the spiritual fight and knowing we already had the victory; my husband spoke specific instructions to our son. You will live and not die. You are more than a conqueror and we declare it with a joyful heart of Thanksgiving.

After things settled down, we were sent to a room for my recovery. My daughter said she needed to go with Mema but would be right back.

About an hour later, she came back with a birthday cake and some food. They sang happy birthday to me, and she kissed my cheek and said, "Mommy, I didn't want you to think that we forgot your birthday." I remember the hug that we shared and the strength that passed back and forth in that embrace.

In that moment, I remember the overwhelming feeling of being THANKFUL.

Thankful that all is, would and shall be well... and thankful for that cake. Let me tell you, it was the best cake I have ever had!

Thankful that my son was passing every milestone and test required to be released from the hospital.

Being grateful is a powerful emotion. It has the power to give you strength to endure.

Fast forward, my son is now a thriving, curious, determined little boy who loves to run and play with his Legos. (He calls himself a Master Builder.) He has stolen the hearts of all whom he encounters with his curly hair, dimples, and charming personality. He is an old soul and reminds me of his father and both of his grandfathers. When I see him with my dad, I am thankful for the legacy that is being imparted every day. When I watch my husband William Jr in the backyard with our son, William III, I know that William Sr is smiling in heaven saying, "That's my boy."

This year, we will continue our birthday tradition with a shared tiered cake. We will have a Spiderman on one side and red roses on the other for me.

Now, that is something to be thankful for!

CHOOSING TO BE GRATEFUL

*In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."
1 Thessalonian 5:18.*

*Be Thankful
Be Grateful
Be Blessed*

Gratitude is the will of God for you. Most of us are so demonstrative in showing our gratefulness when we receive gifts, promises, abundance, peace, and joy. The reverse of that reaction is pleading and whining as adversity walk boldly into our situations. Then "praise the Lord" becomes "Lord, why me?" There is a reminder of what is an appropriate response. It is what we share with others when they are going through difficulties. James 1:2-4 KJV Let it be all joy to you, my brothers, when you undergo tests of every sort; Because you have the knowledge that the testing of your faith gives you the power of going on in hope; But let this power have its full effect, so that you may be made complete, needing nothing.

What is it that you have in these times?

1. You have joy. The joy of the Lord is your strength.
2. You have hope in the victory that is a promise.
3. You have the power of the Anointing. The Anointing is the assurance of being fully equipped to finish the course.

Having seen the registered logo, "BORN EQUIPPED", it became apparent through this time of study on gratefulness that God knew us before being born into this world. Choosing to accept Him as Lord and Savior delivered us into a new birth. That new birth equips the believer with everything needed to be grateful in the seemingly most dire situation. God has you. Pain and despair are significant distractions that will present in the believer's life. What is the will of God on earth? His will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Peace, love, rejoicing, celebration, and unity are all part of heaven. Distraction to His will also distracts from the mission to "go and preach the word to all creation". It distracts from setting the captives free, giving sight to the blind, healing the sick, and lifting those who have fallen. During this time of Thanksgiving, do not be distracted but give thanks in all situations. Praying with a grateful heart and mind, not just during this season but each day of every year, will produce a harvest of peace.

REMEMBER YOUR FIRST LOVE?

I wonder how many of us remember our first love, and did he or she turn out to be our one true love? Those stories of love at first and last sight seem only to happen in the movies these days!

In Revelation 2:5, God warned the church at Ephesus that it should repent and return to its first love. Jesus said plainly that if they did not repent, He would come quickly and remove their candlestick which means; the light or leadership on which the church was founded. If a congregation is too top-heavy, it will soon fall over and collapse, losing the thing that first initiated their coming together, which is to serve.

Therefore, the Head must always be The Word!

Have the churches of our Lord become too top-heavy and organized after the doctrine of the Nicolaitans? Are congregations willingly serving the Lord by doing what they are gifted to do, or depending on leaders to do the work while the body does the rejoicing?

Let's remember why we chose to follow the teachings of Christ "The Anointed One". It was our love for God, because He first loved us, empowering our love for other people.

I'm often asked how my wife and I have been able to stay together for so many years, and my reply is simply, that we are still learning and willing to love!

The Apostle Paul wrote these words of instruction to the Church at Philippi and the church today: Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: (Philippians 2:2-5)

It is never too late to love because the Agape love of God compels us to love our neighbors as ourselves. This is only possible if our definition of love includes the words Yeshua (Jesus) the Christ.

Remember your first love!

A SEASON FOR

Thanks giving

It is always exciting whenever there is a season change. Fall especially has its unique signature. The weather begins to cool down and the trees, before becoming barren, release a magnificent display of colors only identifiable in the fall season. Fall also is associated with harvest time. It is my opinion that the months of fall are also revelatory in nature and here is why. It is in the fall season that we take time to look back towards the beginning of the year and evaluate if what we are seeing or observing has manifested. Are we now seeing what was anticipated? Is it the harvest we were expecting and have so diligently labored for? If so, then the fall season reveals the truth behind what we have been working for and an increase has finally now begun to show signs of just how abundant it will be.

Harvest time, and what it reveals signifies that we are on the verge of moving away from something old and moving into a new season! If our harvest was not what we were expecting, then harvest time now represents the end of the season past when we can begin to set our focus on something new. If indeed our harvest was better than expected, then this season should be celebrated for its abundance. Either way, whatever your harvest, this is the season to offer thanks for whatever was received. The Bible declares that we should give thanks to God in everything (1 Thes. 5:18).

No matter what season in your life you are in there should always be a time to give him thanks. Either give him thanks for bringing you out of a negative situation or the anticipation of bringing you into something new that your heart desires, but in all things give him thanks! Here's another reason to offer thanksgiving unto the Lord. When we offer unto him thanksgiving for what he has done it transports us into his presence!

When we choose to offer thanksgiving unto the Lord, the way is prepared for us to enter his gates and offer praise in his courts or his presence. When we offer praise unto the Lord, we are creating the atmosphere where he abides; therefore, praise ushers us into his presence where the bible says there is fullness of joy, deliverance healing, and the place where he shall supply all our needs! What a blessing it is to know that no matter what the season, though we may not have everything we want, His grace and mercy will, more importantly, supply us with everything we need! Let this be a season of gratitude in our hearts where we show God how grateful we are for all he has done and that thanksgiving coming from us now becomes the fruit of his harvest! Blessings!

WHAT’S YOUR SCORE ON THE THANKFULNESS BAROMETER?

Take a deep breath! Breathe the oxygen that God has given us. As you’re taking that deep breath think of one thing that you can be thankful for. You can’t!! You can’t think of one thing because our mind will begin to flood us with a replay of the goodness of God and how He has blessed us.

As long as we have breath in our lungs, we MUST have an attitude of thanksgiving and gratitude to God. What’s your score on the thankfulness barometer?

We, “Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, And into his courts with praise: Be thankful unto him, and bless his name.” (Psalm 100:4 KJV) Why? Because He has been so good and because He is worthy to be praised!

Since 2020, we have faced worldwide epic challenges. Our sense of normalcy has been shaken at its core. We have faced tragedies that many of us never imagined we would ever see in our lifetime and prayerfully we will never see them again. But thanks be unto God, our El Shaddai, we are still standing!

El Shaddai! Oh, how I love calling that Name!! It can be translated as God Almighty! The Overpowerer! He is the All-sufficient One.” Whatever interpretation we use, The Almighty, The Overpowerer, or The All-Sufficient One, God has proved Himself to be mighty and sufficient! He is The Almighty One and is more than enough! He sustains, nourishes, and protects us. For that alone, we need to say, “Thank You!”

He has sustained us throughout this pandemic, recession, and life’s circumstances. Thank You, Lord! God has continuously done His job and it is time that we continuously do ours. We were created to give Him praise! Praise Him! Thank Him! Honor Him!! Glorify Him!!

What’s your score on the thankfulness barometer? We have weathered many storms. Some were minor and some felt like ‘hurricane satan’ was wreaking havoc in our lives. But God brought us through!!

Thanking God releases the pressure, quiets the storm, and changes our attitude and our altitude. It causes our thankfulness barometer to rise! It may not remove the situation, but an attitude of gratitude and thanksgiving will give you the strength to overcome every storm.

Our level of thankfulness can never be predicated on our situation, mindset, or our emotions. It is predicted on who God is! We must always have an attitude of thanksgiving regardless of what we are going through, what desires have not been fulfilled, or what dreams have not come to pass.

When we have an attitude of thanksgiving we can boldly proclaim, “I will bless the Lord at all times; His praise shall continually be in my mouth. O magnify the Lord with me, And let us lift up His name together.” (Psalms 34:1, 3 AMP)

We must score high on the thankfulness barometer every day. Why? It’s simply because God, our Jehovah-Jireh, our El-Shaddai, our Jehovah-Rapha, our Jehovah-Shalom, and our El Elyon has truly been mmm, mmm, mmm good!!

THANK GOD FOR TASTEBUDS

AUTHOR:

Prophetess Joanne Walker

God Got It Ministries

<https://www.facebook.com/GodGotItMinistry/>

Many people have made plans to gather with family and friends to celebrate Thanksgiving Day.

Family and loved ones will no doubt do their best to go to grandma's home for that special delicious dinner. Those who diet will kiss their diet goodbye for a day of gluttony. And why not? After all, Thanksgiving Day is only celebrated once a year when everyone gets to pig out without being scrutinized or criticized.

I still can remember years gone by when my mother (God rest her soul) would stay up late at night preparing some of the side dishes for the great festive meal. Mom would always have the main course, the turkey or Ham baking in the oven on Thanksgiving morning. Yes, I can recall as if it was yesterday, the smell of homemade cornbread stuffing baking in the oven, fresh turnip greens seasoned with bits and pieces of country ham, the aroma of corn pudding, pound cakes, and sweet potato pies filling the kitchen. I can recall my mom mixing and folding celery seeds, sweet cubes of pickles, onions, and mayonnaise into a big bowl preparing her famous potato salad. I watched as she made her famous homemade gravy to be poured over the cornbread stuffing and turkey. As dinner time approached and all the food was laid out on the dining room table my mouth would be salivating with anticipation of what was to come. From the first fork of potato salad to the last slice of sweet potato pie, my tongue thanked God for my tastebuds.

Those clusters of bulbous nerve endings on the tongue and in the lining of the mouth were not disappointed. My expectation of a delightful Thanksgiving Dinner was well satisfied. Praise God that the memories of Thanksgiving dinners were indeed good! As I reflect on the days of the past during this holiday season, I cannot help but give thanks to God, the One that provided for my family the meals we ate, the special times we shared, and the love encircled with family.

God is truly Jehovah-Jireh, the God that provides. And the beautiful thing about it is that He does not only meet our physical needs but also provides for our spiritual needs. David, the Psalmist wrote, "O taste and see that the Lord is good" (Psalm 38:4a). When I allow His Word to roll slowly over my tongue, experiencing and savoring its goodness and freshness as it marinates in my spirit and soul, I know exactly what David means in this scripture. When I lay under the shadows of the Almighty experiencing His Presence; darkness and trouble are dissipated as I partake of and experience the Lord's love and goodness. Like the Psalmist, my spiritual tastebuds cry, "How sweet are your Words to my taste, sweeter than honey to my mouth" (Psalm 119:103). Your Word, O God, is the True Bread of Life, Jesus Christ! And I thank God for His Savory Word that lasts forever! Happy Thanksgiving Day!

THANKSGIVING

1 Thessalonians 5:18

"In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God concerning you"

The Holiday season is approaching quickly. Thanksgiving typically signals the beginning of a season of gratitude.

Commonly, we think of meals with family, time spent with loved ones, and the aromas of the season that take us to a place of fond memories. This is a time when we as a nation reflect on our many 'blessings' and express gratitude.

Even those who may not believe in a higher power, somehow feel compelled just to be grateful. Those of us who know God uses this as a special time set apart to be thankful.

But is this what the above scripture implies? I don't think so. To 'give Thanks in All things' we must intentionally evaluate what that is daily, not just during the Thanksgiving season. Furthermore, we must be thankful for the good, bad, and in-between of our life. The premise is really to be Thankful 'In' everything. Big difference.

AUTHOR: Bishop Earl Dudley
Rightway Church

This directly coincides with the Apostle Paul's statement 'And we know that All things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose.'

It's all about Faith. Our gains, our losses, persecutions, grief, and everything that we think have seemingly come to take us out is Good. In all things, He has a plan. We grow through the tough times, not the easy ones. My former pastor used to say, 'Roots grow at night.' He had a lot of wisdom. It's in the night times of our life where we truly grow if we learn from it.

Let's pray this prayer together:

"Lord, grant us the mindset to be thankful at all times and to learn, Father, how to be content in whatever season we are in, knowing that we can truly do all things through You, Jesus, who strengthens us. Help us to enter in your gates with thanksgiving and your courts with praise, blessing your most holy name at all times."

Preceding this verse is "Pray without ceasing"

Stuck is NOT Your Story!

I OVERCAME AND AM VICTORIOUS

Trauma is a universal wound not everyone overcomes. This book is about those who have and the inspiration they provide to others.

This compilation of seemingly impossible, awe-inspiring stories will leave you shaking your head and wondering how these women managed to get beyond and grow from their issues. It is a testimonial and a wake-up call proclaiming that we do not have to settle. There is a better day, and it is ready for the taking.

"I looked around at the destruction and felt shame. Shame is anger turned inward."

OH, GIVE THANKS

Webster defines thanksgiving as the act of giving thanks, grateful acknowledgment of benefits or favors. An expression of thanks, especially to God.

Some of my favorite scriptures that offer thanks to the Lord are as follows:

Oh, Give Thanks unto the Lord, for He is Good, yes, He is Good, and His Mercy endures forever. Psalms 107:1 and Psalms 136:1.

For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting, and His truth endures to all generations. Psalms 100:5.

These are just some scriptures that I quote and sing when I thank God for His goodness and steadfast love, or mercy extended to me and my family.

I am truly thankful to the Lord for loving me so much that He provided for my salvation by sending His Only Begotten Son, Jesus, to not only die on the cross for my sins and carry my sicknesses; He (Jesus) also rose on the 3rd day, defeating the enemy and is now seated at the right hand of God in heaven, praying for me. That lets me know that I am always on His mind, He has not forgotten me.

The Bible tells us in St. John 3:16 that God so loved the world that He gave His only Begotten Son that whosoever would believe in Him, would not perish but have everlasting life. 2 Peter 3:9b states that God is not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

There are so many things that I am thankful for. My husband, my family, my friends, and my church family.

THE CALL TO COUNSEL: THE MINISTRY OF RECONCILIATION

AUTHOR: Dr. Philicia Jefferson

No one is exempt from suffering regardless of their religious beliefs. Comforting individuals who embrace false doctrines does not suggest that we accept their doctrine. If you are one of those people who believe that perhaps there is some good in every religion, I tell you that all religions can be a lie but only one can be the truth.

Doctrines of demons cannot be accommodated.

We can respect the humanity in God's creation while abhorring the disease of ignorance which is detrimental to the soul. Christians who counsel need to be thoroughly convinced that there is no room in the Kingdom of God for doctrines of devils, nor is there room in the mind of Christians to accommodate seducing spirits that tickle the ears.

We know the truth because the Spirit that abides within teaches the believer. Science has only validated what we already know. Masoretic scribes were responsible for reproducing the original text of the Hebrew Bible. Their work dated back to the end of the 5th century. The verses, the words, and letters of every book were translated into numerical calculations to correlate similarities and enumerate verses that reflected similarities for precise translation of the text. Copies of the Old Testament books that were found among the Dead Sea Scrolls and written before the time of Jesus Christ were compared to the Masoretic text 1000 years later. The findings were incredibly accurate and proven beyond doubt: word for word and letter for letter.

As for the New Testament scriptures, authentication of what Jesus said and did is through detailed archeological data. There are thousands of instances documenting the evidence of truth including records of eyewitnesses to events recorded. Liberal and conservative authorities completed the authentication process. Even the negative commentaries that attempt to undermine the authenticity of the Bible were refuted, and the final conclusions led to reauthentication.

As for the founder of Christianity, the Gospels: Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John, point to Jesus. Jesus predicted things about the future that no one could know except God himself. He lived among the people, and no one could refute his sinlessness. He was born morally perfect. Jesus is the Deity and the only incarnation of God. Sacred documents identify Jesus as the world's only Savior who died for our sins on the cross offering eternal salvation. Jesus rose from the dead as predicted. There is no one in the history of the world with such a record. Jesus stated that He was the Light of the world, the truth, and God's only Son. Jesus demonstrated power over death. He also declared that He was God. No one has been able to disprove anything that has been historically recorded about the identity of Jesus the Christ. But pervasive doctrines in our world today have convinced multitudes that God has no son.

There is a doctrine supporting the worship of millions of gods even in today's society that asserts that all physical creation is merely an illusion. This religion states that to escape the illusions of life one must go beyond consciousness and connect with a god that is the one and only real god. The doctrine teaches that the path to wholeness is through the mind of their god through altered states of consciousness and contact with spirits. This religion is older than Christianity and from it, another evolved.

The founder of the religion that evolved was a wealthy young man troubled by the suffering he noticed around him. He took on a mission to find a way to alleviate the suffering. He believed that enlightenment was the pathway to eliminating suffering. He did not consider himself a divine revelator or a deity. He was a mortal man trying to find a solution to human suffering but never found it. Also, there is another religion that is the fastest growing religion today and attracts African Americans in large numbers. It views Jesus as only a prophet. Its believers vow to destroy any nation that is a threat to its existence.

The religions that I speak of are thousands of years old and prevalent today with millions of followers. You know them by name. However, I must tell you that there is a new one that has emerged during this generation. This particular religion is more deceptive than others because it has lured babes in Christ, Christians without power or wisdom. They are Christians who are enticed by this newness of thought and interpretation of the scriptures. This contemporary religion advocates for a common religion to redeem the world of its hatred and self-destruction: a Christ consciousness.

This cosmic Christ is identified as a deity who never had a body and therefore could not have died for the sins of man. Many are waiting for signs of the end time without realizing that we have entered it, and many have fallen away.

Jesus is not a peer among other gods. He is the authority over the universe and there is none like Him. Our Lord does not need our advocacy. There is enough knowledge in the world for individuals to make an informed decision about the identity of Jesus Christ and his mission on earth. However, there is a need for intercessors for the ignorant and the foolish. We must pray for a bridge to be set before them as an exit from the doctrine of devils; a pathway to the arc of safety; deliverance from deception. There is no room to accommodate doctrines of devils and seducing spirits.

Christian Theology and Jesus are the pathways to the Father. There is indisputable evidence that Christian theology reflects truth; it is substantiated by research and authenticated by Jesus. Let us give thanks for a mind that comprehends the incomprehensible: the Word that was made flesh and dwelt among us and we beheld his glory as of the only begotten of the Father full of grace and truth (John 1:14). Hallelujah!
